

Library Collections relevant to British History at UC Davis

The Library at UC Davis not only has those series of printed documents usually found at research libraries (for example, The Calendars of State Papers, Foreign and Domestic, The Calendars of Treasury Books and Papers, The Historical Manuscripts Commission); it also has microfilm collections essential to advanced work in British history. Some of those collections in the main library (Shields Library) are listed immediately below. That listing is followed by a list of microfilms of English parish records in the History Department's own microfilm collection.
