How to Navigate the UC Davis History Department Website:

Step by Step Guide

- Using your browser of choice, search “UC Davis History” (https://history.ucdavis.edu/)
- The second page to come up will be “Discover History…” as shown below (Figure 1)
- On the UCD History page, you’ll find the row icon which will present you w/a dropdown menu of different pages from “Undergraduate” to “Courses” (Figure 2)
  - Under “Courses” you may find course listings and topics (Figure 5)
  - Under the “People” tab, you’ll find faculty contact information and topics of research

- By hovering your mouse over “Undergraduate” you will find another dropdown menu containing links to many popular and useful resources for students (Figure 3)
- Two of the most common of these links are “Honors and Opportunities” and “Major in History”
  - In the “Honors and Opportunities” tab, you can find resources for the honors program, internships, and undergraduate research
  - In the “Major in History” tab, you can find major/minor requirements, possible career paths, and learn about the history undergrad experience (Figure 4)
By hovering over courses (Figure 2) you may find detailed description of history courses offered and feature courses for the upcoming term (Figure 5).
